OUT 30 MAY 2007 ON CELEBRITY LIFESTYLE RECORDS!

This is tamed electricity, which by its own noise and randomness creates everything from glitching ambience to throbbing fatal beats. In between is everything you hoped for, but never got in your favorite synth / industrial / electronica / techno / noise record!

This is the second album by Kompjotr Eplektrika and the music, artwork and title is darker and more minimal, compared to the previous release. In order to understand what Copenhagen based Kompjotr Eplektrika really is, CLR asked the great composer:

Kompjotr Eplektrika is the collaboration of the cooperative collection of alias for Mats Björk. Assembling circuits as shown in the translations of figures found in the previously unknown cavities under the Egyptian and Mayan Pyramids, Monsieur Elektrigato tries to recreate the hymns of the ancient star travellers. In addition, Den F.O.E works in traditional voodoo culture towards a somewhat unclear horizon of the free spirit, while Kapten Myrslok is researching the truth of real krautnoise. The occasional line-up for Kompjotr Eplektrika differs from time to time and possesses a wide field of unstable oscillating combinations. Therefore the eclectic waves captured in the secret studio chamber known as Eplektrik Audio, range from booty blowing technothrash powerstructures to dissonant high frequent sound sculpturing, unfolding your ears to the sun.
